Reform in Westerly's "Little Italy"

Prominent Italian Residents of Pierce Street Make Move for Broader Recognition by Town Authorities—Will Actively Engage in Politics—Local Notes

As yet there has been no application at the town clerk's office for marriage license from non-residents under the new law which went into effect Jan. 1. Application must be filed five days before license is issued. The new law specifies what kindred a man or woman may not marry in this state:
"No man shall marry his mother, grandmother, daughter, stepmother, grandfather's wife, son's wife, son's son's wife, daughter's son's wife, wife's mother, wife's grandmother, wife's daughter, wife's son's daughter, wife's daughter's daughter, sister, brother's daughter, sister's daughter, father's sister, mother's sister."
"No woman shall marry her father, grandfather, son, son's son, daughter's son, stepfather, grandmother's husband, daughter's husband, son's daughter's husband, husband's father, husband's grandfather, husband's son, husband's son's son, husband's daughter's son, brother's son, sister's son, father's brother, mother's brother."
These provisions do not extend to, or in any way affect, any marriage which has been solemnized among the Jews within the degree of affinity or consanguinity allowed by their religion. Marriage solemnized among the Quakers, or Friends, in the manner and form practiced in their societies, and among persons professing the Jewish religion according to their rights and ceremonies are good and valid in law. In Rhode Island must first obtain a license from the clerk of the town in which they reside, or if residents of different towns of the state, from the clerk of the town in which they respectively reside, or, if not residents of this state, from the clerk of the town where the marriage is to be solemnized.

If the man is not a resident of Rhode Island he shall obtain license at least five days previous to the marriage. Before any license shall be issued to any person who has been previously married such person shall present to the town clerk either an authenticated copy of the decree granting a divorce, or a certificate of the death of the person whom he or she was formerly married, or such other proof of facts as may be satisfactory to the clerk.

Past Post Commander Charles H. Holdredge installed these officers at Hancock post, No. 31, G. A. R., department of Connecticut, in their quarters in Memorial building Thursday evening. Walter Price, post commander; William F. Hawkins, senior vice commander; Amos P. Chapman, junior vice commander; Frank O. Brightman, post chaplain; Frank O. Brightman, post instructor; Charles H. Holdredge, post quartermaster; Joshua M. Clark, post surgeon; Thomas D. Sheffield, post adjutant; Joseph Smith, officer of the day; Elmer Barber, officer of the guard; Horace Sisson, sergeant major; Stephen W. Collins, quartermaster sergeant.

Little Italy, or The Alley, so designated by reason of a preponderance of Italian residents, but known on the town records as Pierce street, wherein many liquor law violators have been located, is now on the wave of reform and recognition on a broader scale is to be demanded of the town authorities. Italian residents of Pierce street have formed the Italian Citizens' Independent society and elected these officers: Angelo Cappucci, president; Santo Turano, vice president; Guespino Guarino, secretary; George Montano, treasurer.

The objects, in part, of the society, as given out for publication, is "to see that Pierce street and that vicinity receive more attention from the highway department and that the street is placed within the street patrol." The members of the society propose to take active part in the political affairs of Westerly and expect to wield an influence for the bettering of their condition. In the hope of removing the stigma that they are habitual law violators instead of good citizens.

At the annual meeting of the Noank fire department it was voted accept the invitation and be guests of the P. S. Barber Hose company in Pawtucket on the night of Jan. 21. The Noank department elected these officers: Loren L. Park, foreman; Henry C. O'Brien, Samuel C. Patterson, assistants; Louis A. Ellis, secretary; Holly B. Dyer, treasurer; O. W. Beebe, steward; Nelson Rathbun, engineer; Henry Fitzpatrick, foreman hook and ladder company; Lawrence Ashcraft, steward; Nelson Rathbun, trustee for three years.

Officers of Bowen lodge, K. of P., recently elected, were installed Thursday evening.

Nine council officers, K. of C., of Stonington, were duly installed Thursday evening.

The rain of Thursday stopped ice cutting in this section. Quaint and thick, clear ice has been harvested.

The objectors to leasing oyster grounds in the Pawtucket river, Stonington and Groton, will be given a hearing by the Connecticut shellfish commission in New Haven Jan. 18.

The entertainment committee of the Westerly Board of Trade have not definitely decided upon the date for the annual banquet, but it will probably be held during the first week of February.

The large mill building in Main street has not been occupied since the departure of the Solway concern, nearly three years ago. Rumor has practically located just nine manufacturing concerns in the building since then, but no part of any has materialized.

Myrtle Hook and Ladder company elected these officers for the ensuing year: Mason Manning, foreman; Louis P. Barstow, assistant; Charles T. Crandall, Jr., secretary; Allen Avery, treasurer; George Heywood, steward; Allen Avery, C. L. Allen, G. E. Tingley, executive committee.

For the second time in two months the postoffice at Noank was entered and robbed early Thursday morning. The loss was not heavy and the burglars are believed to be local amateurs. Entrance was made in each instance by forcing the front door, and only a small amount of cash was taken.

There is reason for not arresting James W. Martini for alleged violation of the liquor law and bringing him into court, as was done with other alleged violators of the liquor laws. It is said that warrant has been issued for his arrest, but that there has been no opportunity to make service as the gentleman could not be found.

BRIEF STATE NEWS

Country Capers.
Here are odd items from rural newspapers:
"Fame is thrust upon some men. The editor of The Richmond Conservator says that he raised a coat that signed up for next year with a big circus."

A Douglas editor wrote: "Hugh Wade drove in to meet the boys home from college and hauled out a load of trunks. The printer made it read 'a load of drunks.'"

"Anyone can have black hair," says The Butler Democrat, "but it takes a man of determination to support red hair." But The Kansas City Star makes this comment: "That anyone can have black hair would probably be disputed by the bald heads."

42 FISHERMEN MISSING, PERISHED IN BLIZZARD
Chance for Escape Regarded as Poor—Nova Scotia Fleet.

Canso, N. S., Jan. 5.—Forty-two fishermen are missing and may have perished in the blizzard that suddenly swept down this coast yesterday afternoon and has been raging for more than 24 hours. Fourteen men are almost certainly known to have been lost and the remaining 28 who are missing are already being mourned their chances for escape being regarded as small. Thirty of the men involved in this tragedy of the sea were married.

Twenty-three of the fishermen were from Dover, four miles from here, and 19 from Whitehead, ten miles to the south.

The fleet from Canso and from Petite de Grat, about nine miles away, were also caught in the storm but escaped by skilled seamanship.

The storm Tuesday caught the fishermen all unawares. Lured by a fine morning that promised good fishing the men ventured to the outer edge of the haddock fishing grounds. At noon the storm came up with great rapidity. In a period measured by minutes the ten-mile an hour wind was transformed into a gale, the temperature fell many degrees and thick snow obscured the view, so that many of the little craft were unable to make harbor.

After an anxious night of watching and waiting, steamers were sent out today to search for the smacks. Several crews, frostbitten from a night of exposure, were picked up, but many are still missing, and the chance that they have escaped grows less as the hours pass with no news from them at any point along the coast.

At the entrance to Whitehead harbor, a boat from Port Felix settlement, a mile or two from Whitehead, struck on Dogfish rocks. Her crew of seven were lost. Another boat, her sails in tatters, was sighted off shore at Canso, but before assistance could put off from shore the distressed boat was lost from view in the blinding storm. Her crew must have perished.
